

ONLINE PHYSICS BRAWL

You haven't heard of the Online Physics Brawl yet?

It is the largest international online physics competition with problems in either English or Czech.

So what are you waiting for? Create your own team with up to five members and join us in this amazing opportunity to compare your problem solving skills with people from around the globe! Oh and do not worry, you are never too old. The competition is open to everybody, not just high school students.

Register before December 5, 2012, 22:00 UTC+1 on our web:
